INVESTMENT ACCOUNT OPTIONS

In making your personalized investment plan, we take into account all the details of your situation, including your concerns about future market losses, how long until you need the money, and many other preferences and considerations.

In general, we charge about 1% fee on assets for the first million under management, and much less for amounts above that. We only open accounts under $100,000 for financial planning clients when those accounts comprise all of their assets available to manage at the time.

Socially Responsible Investing

We have choices about how we invest our money, and many of us would prefer to have environmental, social and governance (ESG) issues taken into account if we can still get good performance! These portfolios are managed in-house, utilizing mutual funds.

- Accounts over $100,000 – our core models in 5 risk categories.
- Small accounts - $25-100,000 – simplified models

Frontier Asset Management

Frontier is a wealth management company we partner with that has attractive risk-adjusted performance. We offer their models for accounts over $100,000.

Variable Annuities

For some clients in or near retirement, there are a few fee-based variable annuities that may fit into your customized income plan. Our guidelines are to offer the products with the most benefits and the fewest restrictions we can find for you, and to treat them like our other fee-based investment options. Variable annuities might comprise 20-40% of your retirement assets when they are a good fit.

CAAP models

CAAP is a model-based investment option at our RIA, Cambridge Investment Research Advisors. We offer two low-cost options, which allow you to choose either an actively-managed fund family or a passive-index based approach.

Fee Details

Fees for Investment accounts, or Assets Under Management (AUM) fees, are expressed annually as a percentage of the account balance, and are withdrawn from accounts on a monthly or a quarterly basis. Household accounts are combined for pricing if on the same platform (CAAP, Advisor or Frontier).

Our guiding principle on fees is to charge approximately 1% on most accounts, though the aggregate fee drops significantly when the accounts total over $1,000,000. In a similar vein, the fee is closer to 1.25% on small accounts.

For any accounts under $25,000, we utilize a commission structure that pays us 1% per year.

SMALL ACCOUNTS

Although Toler Financial Group operates primarily in a fee environment, for accounts between $1000 and $25,000 we offer simplified, diversified, commission-based brokerage accounts. The purpose of opening these accounts is as a convenience to our existing clients, to simplify their holdings and management. These accounts can be individual, Joint, or any of the retirement accounts (IRA, Roth, SEP, Simple). You can contribute annually or monthly as you prefer to help them grow.

For these accounts we offer C-shares with the intent that within 5 years the accounts will grow to be over $25,000, and can be transitioned to a fee-based account at that time. C-shares pay us a 1% commission annually. They are not the most advantageous share class for long-term holds, but often work well for 2-5 year time periods.

Choices we offer include:

Diversified Risk-based and Target Date funds, including some socially responsible options.
